About AcuEnergetics®

AcuEnergetics® is a modern healing modality for the body and mind, with a unique and effective approach to treating illness in the body. It was developed by an Australian, Kevin Niv Farrow. It works by encouraging the body to promote faster, natural healing to ease pain and improve physical and emotional health.

AcuEnergetics® understands that pain and disease in the body and mind is caused by a disruption in the flow of your body's bio-electricity. AcuEnergetics® Practitioners use precise points on the body to restore this natural electrical flow, usually without touching the body.

AcuEnergetics® combines Kevin's own research and understanding, with knowledge from ancient Chinese, Middle Eastern, Indian and Judaic texts. In addition to this integration of understandings from ancient and modern medical sources, AcuEnergetics® has also uncovered a number of remarkable original discoveries about the nature of the body. The result is a modern treatment modality, backed by thousands of years of wisdom.

Founder of AcuEnergetics® Kevin Niv Farrow is an internationally recognised healer and meditation teacher. He has practised and studied meditation and the bio-electrical system for over 45 years and taught his work for over 17 years. His published writings, meditation CD's and teachings have brought him worldwide recognition as a unique and practical meditation teacher and an expert in the field of energy medicine. AcuEnergetics® is taught around the world including Australia, USA, India, England, The Netherlands and Italy.
